New 2005 Allied Health Professions Week Packet

ATRA is a member of the Health Professions Network (HPN). The Health Professions Network (HPN) is a voluntary, national group representing over 75 organizations of allied health care providers, educators and accreditors interested in interdisciplinary discussion and collaboration. HPN focuses on communication, consensus and advocacy on behalf of allied health professionals. Check out the great HPN resources available to ATRA members for celebrating and promoting Allied Health Professions week Nov 6-12, 2005.
