

The ATRA Journal Listing is brought to you by the ATRA Marketing Team
www.atra-tr.org

ONCOLOGY /GENERAL MEDICINE

Name	Aim and Scope	Article/Manuscript submission
Hospice Management advisor	Hospice Management Advisor is a practical source you can use immediately. Inside each monthly issue Quarterly you'll learn from the experiences of successful hospice managers and obtain critical how-to information. You'll find the latest on Joint Commission accreditation, liability management, infection and quality control, employee issues, reimbursement, pain regulation, and more.
Illness, Crisis &amp; Loss	Illness, Crisis & Loss (ICL), sponsored by the Center for Death Education and Bioethics, is a quarterly journal publishing peer-reviewed articles, book reviews, and essays on psychosocial and ethical issues associated with life-threatening illness, traumatic crises, and grief and loss. ICL features editorials, research notes, letters to the editor, commentaries, essays, clinical cases, news, and announcements. Occasional theme issues and guest editorials address current issues and policies of interest to readers who are critical thinkers and practitioners involved in psychosocial and ethical issues. ICL is a reflective forum for practitioners, researchers, leaders, and students from a variety of fields whose interdisciplinary insights and perspectives link theory, research, and practice.	Quarterly Submission, including articles, essays, and news notes should be sent to the ICL editor. Mail four copies of your manuscript to: Robert Bendikson, Ph.D. Editor, Illness Crisis & Loss Center for Death Education and Bioethics Soc/Arc Dept.-435 NH University of Wisconsin-La Crosse La-Crosse, WI 54601-3742 e-mail: CDEB@uwlax.edu Fax: (608) 785-8486 Office: (608) 785-6781 Frequency: Quarterly Months of Distribution: January - April - July - October -
Complementary Health Practice Review	Complementary Health Practice Review is one of the few resources that offers the cultural, social, demographic, political, economic, and legal implications of the use of alternative and complementary therapies as well as original basic and applied research from a wide range of health and social science disciplines. Complementary Health Practice Review is a peer-reviewed journal published three times a year. The focus is on research of the changing scope of health care and medicine, drawing from a wide range of academic disciplines and health care professions.	3 times year All correspondence and materials submitted for publication should be sent to Complementary Health Practice Review, c/o Patricia Chojnicki, Sage Publications, Inc., 2455 Teller Road, Thousand Oaks, CA 91320, USA. Correspondence should be sent to the journal at this address or by e-mail (Patricia.Chojnicki@sagepub.com); phone: 805-499-0721, ext. 7210.

Health Promotion Practice	Health Promotion Practice (HPP) publishes authoritative articles devoted to the practical application of health promotion and education. It publishes information of strategic importance to a broad base of professionals engaged in the practice of developing, implementing, and evaluating health promotion and disease prevention programs. The journal's editorial board is committed to focusing on the applications of health promotion and public health education interventions, programs and best practice strategies in various settings, including but not limited to, community, health care, worksite, educational, and international settings. Additionally, the journal focuses on the development and application of public policy conducive to the promotion of health and prevention of disease. The journal includes issues related to the professional preparation and development of health educators.	Quarterly	Manuscripts may be sent to: Health Promotion Practice Society for Public Health Education 750 First St., NE, Suite 910 Washington, DC 20002-4242 vvarsalone@sophe.org Attn: Vicki Varsalone
Journal of Holistic Nursing	The Journal of Holistic Nursing is a pioneering force in exploring the frontiers of holism. This innovative journal provides an objective forum for researchers, scholars and practitioners to exchange information, report the results of clinical experiences and share research pertaining to health care, wellness, healing and human potential. Members of the helping professions concerned with nurturing and empowering the whole person, the Journal of Holistic Nursing can give you the support you need to actively participate in the healing process	Quarterly	Manuscripts should be submitted in quadruplicate to Dr Lynn Rew, School of Nursing, University of Texas, 1700 Red River, Austin, Texas 78701, United States. JHN expects that original contributions have not been previously published and are not under simultaneous consideration by another publication.
Journal of Pediatric Oncology Nursing	The Journal of Pediatric Oncology Nursing (JOPON) will be of interest to nurses in pediatrics, hematology, oncology, and immunology research, as well as pediatric social workers, epidemiologists, clinical psychologists, child life specialists and nursing educators.	Quarterly	All manuscripts should be submitted directly to the Editor: Nancy E. Kline, PhD, RN, CPNP, FAAN, Director, Center for Clinical Innovation and Scholarship, Children's Hospital Boston, Wolbach 201, 300 Longwood Avenue, Brookline, MA 02115, USA
Journal of Clinical Excellence	The journal is designed to enable examples of best practice experience and research to be brought to the attention of the whole healthcare community. The journal is multidisciplinary. We publish high-quality academic articles, practical ideas based on relevant experiences, quality improvement protocols, patient perspective articles, and international exchange. Areas of interest include the organization of quality, clinical governance, clinical audit, patient safety, appraisal and professional development, quality improvement techniques, performance management, patient confidentiality, patient perspective, leadership, risk management, continuous quality improvement, management of underperformance and organizational culture	Quarterly	All correspondence should be addressed to: The Editor, Quality in Primary Care, Clinical Governance Research & Development Unit, Department of General Practice and Primary Health Care, University of Leicester, Leicester General Hospital, Gwendolen Road, Leicester LE5 4PW, UK; tel: +44 (0)116 258 4873, fax: +44 (0)116 258 4982; email: qpc@radcliffemed.com

Journal of Health Communication

Journal of Health Communication is a scholarly, peer-reviewed journal, published bimonthly. It presents the latest development in the field of health communication including research in risk communication, health literacy, social marketing, communication (from interpersonal to mass media), psychology, government, policy-making, and health education around the world. The Journal of Health Communication focuses on promoting the vital life of the individual and the good health of the world's people with presentation of research, progress in areas of technology and public health, ethics, politics/policy, and the application of health communication principles to the better health of individuals and communities.

Submission of review articles is encouraged. Send manuscripts to: Wendy Meltzer, Managing Editor
Journal of Health Communication
GW Center for International Health
Department of International Public Health
The George Washington University
2175 K Street, NW
Suite 810
Washington, DC 20037, USA

American Journal of Managed Care

The American Journal of Managed Care (AJMC) is an independent, peer-reviewed forum for the dissemination of research relating to clinical, economic, and policy aspects of financing and delivering healthcare. The Journal's mission is to publish original research relevant to clinical decision makers and policy makers as they work to promote the efficient delivery of high quality care.

The American Journal of Managed Care, 241 Forsgate Drive, Jamesburg, NJ 08831, Telephone: (732) 656-1006, Facsimile: (732) 656-9267, Email: info@ajmc.com

Medical Decision Making

Medical Decision Making offers rigorous and systematic approaches to decision making that are designed to improve the health and clinical care of individuals and to assist with health care policy development. Using the fundamentals of decision analysis and theory, economic evaluation, and evidence based quality assessment, Medical Decision Making presents both theoretical and practical statistical and modeling techniques and methods from a variety of disciplines.

Bi monthly Manuscripts should be addressed to the editor at the following address: Mark Helfand, MD, MPH Medical Decision Making 3181 SW Sam Jackson Park Road Mail code: BICC Portland, OR 97239-3098

American Therapeutic Recreation Association
1414 Prince Street, Suite 204, Alexandria, VA 22314
(703) 683-9420
www.atra-tr.org